

U.S. Congress
Washington, DC

December 4, 2020

Dear Member of Congress:

As COVID-19 decimates communities of color including indigenous communities, the Trump Administration continues with its plans to drill in the Arctic Refuge and further degrade indigenous communities. The result will be a loss in way of life and livelihood for the Gwich'in people—a community that has inhabited this region for 20,000 years.

Recently we have seen a groundswell of support to address racial injustice and reverse systemic racism. Yet, the Trump Administration continues to move forward with actions—such as drilling on land held as sacred by the Gwich'in people—that further erode human rights and advance environmental injustice. These actions reveal a prejudice towards indigenous communities that—like all forms of racism—should have been eradicated long ago.

Drilling in the Refuge could lead to starvation and exile for the Gwich'in. The Coastal Plain of the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge is the calving grounds for the porcupine caribou, the animal which the Gwich'in people rely on for 84 percent of their diet. With an estimated 1 in 5 African American households impacted by hunger, food insecurity is an issue that the black community understands well. Our communities know what it is like to face higher food prices, something that the Gwich'in will have to contend with should their main source of food perish.

As leaders in the black church we stand in solidarity with the Gwich'in community and urge that plans to drill in the Arctic Refuge end immediately. Our nation's continued pursuit of fossil fuels not only threatens the Gwich'in way of life but also degrades the health and wellbeing of African American communities with the resulting air pollution and climate impacts.

We must stop investing in actions that will poison the air of communities of color and decimate indigenous communities. The Arctic National Wildlife Refuge is a part of God's creation that stands alone in its wilderness, ecological integrity, and beauty. As members of the black church community, we ask you to grant the Arctic Refuge the strongest possible protection and prevent oil exploration and drilling in this precious part of God's creation.

Sincerely,
