

Our National Parks make some of God's greatest blessings for our nation available to all. There is no better time than the centennial year of our National Parks to ensure children with disabilities and the elderly will be able to access these treasures.

So, as we celebrate the 100th birthday of our national parks, I urge Congress and the President to protect our parks and federal lands, add new ones, and ensure funding so that every American can enjoy the beauty of God's creation.

Sincerely,
